ECOCERT COSMOS

- a sustainable approach to skincare and cosmetics

When we are choosing skincare products and cosmetics, organics is an increasingly important parameter. We are no longer just aware of what we put in our body – we are also very much aware of what we put on our body.

Ecocert COSMOS is an impartial, European standard that controls and certifies organic cosmetics and skincare products. In addition to ensuring a sustainable approach to everything from the content, manufacturing processes, and packaging of the product, this certification also helps you figure out which products you can trust.

When a Meraki product carries the Ecocert COSMOS label, you can always see what percentage of the product's ingredients are natural and organic respectively. All products must have at least 95% plant-based ingredient.

What requirements does Ecocert COSMOS have?

Ecocert COSMOS makes high demands regarding the use of ingredients made from renewable resources and through environmentally friendly processes. To ensure safe products that care for you as well as the environment, there are a number of strict requirements and standards that all of the products must meet:

- All ingredients are manufactured using approved processes
- All products are, at a minimum, 95% plant-based ingredient
- All perfume must be 100% natural
- No usage of genetically modified ingredients (GMO)
- All palm and palm kernel oil must be sustainably produced
- All packaging is recyclable
- No parabens, nanoparticles, phenoxyethanol, silicon or ingredients derived from animals have been used, unless these are naturally produced, e.g. milk, honey and the like

Some of the ingredients commonly found in cosmetics – e.g. water, salts and minerals – cannot be certified as organic as they do not come from farming.

Products such as shampoo and detergent that have a high concentration of water can therefore consist of 10-40% organic ingredients and 95% natural ingredients, whereas essential oils that do not contain water can be up to 100% organic.

THE NORDIC SWAN ECOLABEL

We need to look after Earth, but what can we do in our day-to-day lives to reduce our burden on the environment? The Nordic Swan Ecolabel is the official Nordic Ecolabel, and it makes it easier for you to protect the environment and nature. When you choose a Swan-labelled product, you help to make a difference.

- You protect the nature and environment
- You take care of yourself and your loved ones
- You save Earth's resources
- You show consideration for the future climate

What requirements does the Nordic Swan Ecolabel have?

The Nordic Swan Ecolabel looks at the product as a whole, as well as the overall environmental impact from ingredients and production between use and disposal. In addition to setting strict environmental requirements, the Nordic Swan Ecolabel also places high demands on the quality of the product. When a product lasts longer, we can minimise the impact on the environment that comes from new production and waste management.

- No to parabens and endocrine disruptors
- No to allergenic preservatives
- No to microplastics
- Meets strict environmental requirements
- Meets strict chemicals requirements

ASTHMA ALLERGY DENMARK - THE BLUE WREATH

The risk of developing a skin allergy depends on how much your skin is in contact with allergenic substances, such as perfume. The more contact, the greater the risk. So, if you want to look after your skin and prevent allergies, it is a good idea to be aware of which products you choose for you and your children.

What can I do to reduce the risk?

Our skin is vulnerable, and both young and old are at risk of developing skin allergies. Fortunately, you can reduce the risk by looking for products labelled with Asthma Allergy, Denmark's international allergy brand, the Blue Wreath. By doing so, you avoid substances known to cause allergies.

What is the Blue Wreath?

The Blue Wreath is your safe choice in a jungle of skincare products. The certification makes strict demands as to what ingredients a product can contain – all products are also thoroughly evaluated. In the end, it helps you to avoid allergenic substances.
